DETAILED ACTION

Applicant is advised that claims 13 and 14 are drafted as “use” claims, which are not proper process claims under 35 U.S.C. 101, and should be amended in response to this Office Action. In the interest of compact prosecution and for the purposes of this election/restriction, claims 13 and 14 are interpreted as methods of using a device.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 13 and 14, drawn to the use of a device (considered to be methods of using the device).

Group II, claims 2-11, drawn to a device wherein the active substance is selected from the genus of peptides or proteins.

Group III, claims 2-12, drawn to a device wherein the active substance is selected from the genus of oligonucleotides or polynucleotides.

Group IV, claims 2-10 and 12, drawn to a device wherein the vaccine is selected from the genus of bacterial or bacterial toxoid vaccines.

Group V, claims 2-10 and 12, drawn to a device wherein the vaccine is selected from the genus of viral vaccines.

Group VI, claims 2-10 and 12, drawn to a device wherein the vaccine is selected from the genus of oligonucleotide or polynucleotide vaccines.

Group VII, claims 2-10 and 12, drawn to a device wherein the vaccine is selected from the genus of genetically engineered antigens.

Claim 1 links inventions II-VII. The restriction requirement between the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim, claim 1. Upon the indication of allowability of the linking claim, the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claims depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be rejoined and fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Claims that require all the limitations of an allowable linking claim will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

Applicant(s) are advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, the allowable linking claim, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 443 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the common technical feature among the inventions is the device for transdermal administration of active substances, which lacks an inventive step as evidenced by Gertsek et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,656,147; Filed Jul. 17, 2000) in view of Cormier et al. (U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2002/0016562; Filed Jun. 17, 1997). Specifically, Gertsek et al. disclose a device for transdermal administration of active substances comprising a plurality of microneedles (abstract; Figure 2; column 2, lines 21-27). Gertsek et al. teach that their device comprises a back layer and a reservoir connected to the back layer (Figure 2; column 2, lines 33-37). Thus the Gertsek et al. teach each element of instant claim 1 except for needles having undercuts or barbs. However, Cormier et al. teach a transdermal delivery device comprising barbed microblades that function to adhere the device to the skin (i.e. rendering the extraction of the device from the skin more difficult). Since essentially identical transdermal delivery devices were known in the art at the time of the invention, one of ordinary skill in the art would readily have envisioned constructing the device of Gertsek et al. with undercuts or barbs to increase adherence of the device to the skin as taught by Cormier et al. Therefore, the claimed device lacks an inventive step and the Groups cannot share a special technical feature since the device is not a special technical feature as defined under PCT Rule 13.2, Part I (b). Thus, the Groups do are subject to restriction.

3. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder.

All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

4. In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
